

SI9AM A feeling of Thailand – More than just amateur radio

At the amateur radio station SI9AM you can test your ability to handle a pileup or just "ragchew" with the world in the way you are used to. But whatever you chose, expect a lot of attention from the outside world. From SI9AM anything is possible!

The SI9AM QTH is located close to the exotic Thai Pavilion, King Chulalongkorn Memorial, in Utanede Ragunda. The visitor's station is located at Holmstagården, which also houses a number of simple but nice rooms of hostel character and a group of 10–20 people is not a problem. During the summer there is the "Pavilion terrace" offering snacks and light dishes. A visit to SI9AM will be a different activity for you or your radio club!

Quote from our guestbook May 2014; "I can highly recommend that you rent a place at SI9AM! Moreover, there are still many un-worked SMFF areas here in eastern Jämtland! 73/44 de Hans–SM3TLG"

(SMFF – Swedish Flora Fauna are protected nature areas treated as amateur radio countries).

Besides amateur radio there are many interesting activities in the local area, including:

THAI PAVILION – There is a Thai pavilion in the Jämtland birch forest in Utanede. As an exotic jewelry in white and gold it stands there, the only one of its kind outside of Thailand. This is undoubtedly one of Sweden's most remarkable and beautiful buildings!

"Not until you heard the story behind the Thai Pavilion, you know what you really see." More information: www.thaipaviljongen.se

THE DEAD FALLS – Nature reserve with an exciting and interesting story. During the night of 6–7 June 1796 Lake Ragundasjön was emptied and disappeared in 4 hours. The 35 meter high waterfall dried out and fell silent for ever – and became "The Dead Falls". More information: www.dodafallet.nu
